SECTION- D

Source Based Question: (A BRIEF ACCOUNT OF THE SIKHS-GANDA SINGH)

2×5=10

(1) The word Sikh is the Punjabi form of Sanskrit Shishya, which means a learner or a disciple. The Sikhs as a community are the disciples and followers of the Gurus, Nanak to Gobind Singh, who created out of the disunited and emasculated fabric of society in Northern India a well-knit homogeneous body of people devoted in a bold and selfless spirit to the service of their countrymen. Guru Nanak was born at Talwandi Rai Bhoi (now called Nankana Sahib), to the south-west of Lahore (Pakistan) in April 1469. He was a revolutionary, religious and social reformer according to whom the political and cultural domination of the people by the ruling and priestly classes was chiefly responsible for their degeneration. Their emancipation, he thought could only be brought about by a new consciousness which should instil into them the unity and fatherhood of God and the equality and fraternity of man. He refused to recognize the distinctions between man and man and between the sexes created by the old caste systems and other orthodox social conventions and proclaimed that all women born were equal in the eyes of God.

Answer the following questions:

1. Who is founder of Sikhism?
2. When was founder of Sikhism born?
3. Where was Talwandi Rai Bhoi situated in these days?
4. According to Guru Nanak Dev Ji who was responsible for the deterioration of people?
5. Write the views of Guru Nanak Dev Ji about women.

(2) Guru Gobind Singh had, before his death, reclaimed at Nanded an ascetic Bairagi, Madho Das, converting him to his faith with the name of Banda Singh and reluming him with Promethean fire to continue his struggle for freedom of the Punjab from under the oppressing yoke of the Mughals. The Sikhs under his command soon embarked on a career of conquest and within a few months of his arrival in the Punjab dislodged the Mughal power from the Cis-Sutlej territories. Samana, Shahabad and Sadhaura were among the first important places to fall to Banda Singh who occupied the fort of Mukhlisgarh to the North-East to Sadhaura to make it his capital. He next moved in the direction of Sirhind whose governor, Wazir Khan, came out to meet him with a large force and an innumerable host of Muslim crusaders. The battle was fought on the plain of Chapper Chiri on May 12, 1710. The cold blooded murder of the young sons of Guru Gobind Singh associated with the town and its governor was still fresh in the memory of the Sikhs. They made so strong and sweeping an attack that the enemy could not stand against them. Wazir Khan was killed in the battle and the capital of Sirhind was occupied on the third day.

Answer the following questions:

1. Who was Madho Das?
2. Where was Madho Das met Guru Gobind Singh?
3. What do you mean by Cis-Sutlej territories?
4. Where was battle of Sirhind fought?
5. When was battle of Sirhind fought?
